What is Dropshipping? Drop shipping simply refers to a retail fulfillment model where you do not stock the products you are selling. Instead of physically stocking the products you want to sell, you just display the items online (on your website mostly). Once a buyer places an order, you forward the order to the vendor who then acts as a third party and fulfills the orders on your behalf. From the above explanation, it is clear that the dropshipping business model usually depends of the participation of three parties namely: Supplier The first in the chain is the dropshipping supplier who fulfills the orders placed by a customer. For instance, if you are selling shirts by H&M and a customer places an order for a shirt, you will send the order details to H&M and it, being the supplier, will fulfill the order. Retailer The retailer is the person/organization that acts as an intermediary who takes orders from the customer and forwards them to the supplier who then fulfills them. This order taking process can be through a website or a social media account. Customer The customer is the person who places the order through the website or social media account. Now that you know the parties involved in the dropshipping business model, let us examine a tad bit more on how the dropshipping model works. How to Start A Drop Shipping Business

Dropshipping is a newer retail concept, which means there is going to be some uncomfortable feelings no matter how experienced you are in selling and the online realm. When you venture into something new like this, you will be nervous about how it will go. Do not let this fear hold you back from getting started right away. A wise man once said, the best time to plant a tree was 10 years ago, the next best time is now. Now is the time to start. Now is the time to research your product and niche and get it out there to build customers, passive income, and independence. If you stumble onto a problem in your dropshipping business that you do not know the answer for, take the time to look it up. The online retail industry is changing along with the desires of the customer; this means dropshipping changes, too. This book holds the answers to a lot of your beginning and basic questions, but for those more challenging ones that you encounter, go online and learn from more of the best. Google and YouTube offer several additional resources for help, and there are also online forums for dropshippers to talk and help one another. Even though scaling is much different in dropshipping, it is still important. You may not have to expand your warehouse space, storefront, or inventory, but you still need to make sure you are reaching more and more customers to build your customer base and are advertising well for the growing number of people. Scaling is important, but how you do it is different. For example, when you have a product that is a good seller, you need to reinvest in your business to create more ads for it. As you create more ads, make sure they are working for you, and then recreate this process as often as possible. If you are bringing in $700 every day and profiting $500 from that revenue, take a few more hundred and put it back into advertising. You need to increase your ads and get more visibility. Again, remember that this visibility must be on a relevant platform and aligned with the interests of your niche. Your niche may shift and grow with your business, so always make sure your message reflects whom they are. Below are the real golden nuggets you will understand when you actually start and dive into the world of dropshipping. If you haven't done it yet, then it's much harder to understand. Everybody learns from experience, so you will learn these if you are an outsider. You will want to know and understand when you are operating your online dropshipping business.
