Le Tumulte Noir Sonia Delaunay s'est longtemps effacée derrière l'oeuvre de son mari Robert qu'elle vénérerait. Mais qui est-elle vraiment ? Moderne, exigeante et visionnaire, du couple Delaunay, la vraie créatrice, c'est elle. Seule femme peintre parmi l'avant-garde du XXe siècle naissant, Sonia souffre toutefois d'une réputation de « touche à tout ». Avec ses tissus imprimés, ses meubles, ses objets, ses vêtements, elle fait vivre sa famille, mais surtout crée l'art d'embellir le quotidien. Généreuse, elle se lie d'amitié avec les artistes majeurs de son époque – Apollinaire, Cendrars, Tzara, Diaghilev, Kandinsky – qui s'invitent à sa table et avec lesquels elle collabore dans une camaraderie joyeuse et inventive. Sophie Chauveau raconte avec passion le destin d'une artiste exceptionnelle, une vie magnifique, bousculée par deux guerres et toutes les révolutions picturales du XXe siècle. De l'Ukraine des shtetls au Saint-Petersbourg des tsars, en passant par Berlin, Paris ou l'Espagne, voici le destin de celle qui ne vécut, jusqu'à 94 ans, que pour son art.

French Twentieth Bibliography Modernism on Stage restores Serge Diaghilev's Ballets Russes to its central role in the Parisian art world of the 1910s and 1920s. During those years, the Ballets Russes' stage served as a dynamic forum for the interaction of artistic genres - dance, music and painting - in a mixed-media form inspired by Richard Wagner's Gesamtkunstwerk (total work of art). This interdisciplinary study combines a broad history of Diaghilev's troupe with close readings of four ballets designed by canonical modernist artists: Pablo Picasso, Sonia Delaunay, Henri Matisse, and Giorgio de Chirico. Experimental both in concept and form, these productions redefine our understanding of the interconnected worlds of the visual and performing arts, elite culture and mass entertainment in Paris between the two world wars. This volume traces the ways in which artists working with the Ballets Russes adapted painterly styles to the temporal, three-dimensional and corporeal medium of ballet. Analyzing interactions among sets, costumes, choreography, and musical accompaniment, the book establishes what the Ballets Russes' productions looked like and how audiences reacted to them. Juliet Bellow brings dance to bear upon modernist art history as more than a source of imagery or ornament: she spotlights a complex dialogue among art forms that did not preclude but rather enhanced artists' interrogation of the limits of medium.

Ein Tag mit Picasso A comprehensive, multidisciplinary, and multilingual bibliography on women and gender. Topics range from legal status and marital customs to economic participation and gender roles, women writers and artists, and autobiographical works of all kinds.

A Cultural History of Fashion in the 20th and 21st Centuries

Primitivism and Picasso's Early Cubism Ein elegantes, schöngestiges Metier oder ein zwielichtiges Gewerbe? Der Kunsthandel erfährt in Medien und Popkultur eine äußerst ambivalente Repräsentation. Wie jedoch blicken die Akteure auf den Kunsthändler, welche ihn womöglich am besten kennen, also die Künstler selbst? Dieser Frage geht Alexander Wilhelmi nach, indem er acht Kunsthändler-Porträts analysiert, die allesamt der Hand prominenter Künstler des 20. Jahrhunderts entstammen. In den detaillierten Einzelstudien nähert sich der Autor Themenkomplexen, wie: Was verraten die Porträts über die Beziehung der Künstler zu ihrem Gegenüber? Wie wird das Verhältnis der Händler zur Kunst inszeniert? Und welche Vorstellungen über den Beruf ergeben sich aus den Werken?

ABM On The Deal Maker: How William C. Durant Made General Motors: "A well-written biography."-New York Times On Stanwyck:

aus.Zum 100. Todestag der Künstlerin, am 20. November 2006, erscheint von der Kunsthistorikerin Renate Berger die Schilderung der prägendsten und aufregendsten Zeit der Künstlerin: die "Pariser Jahre" zwischen 1900 und 1907. Begleitet wird sie bei ihren zahlreichen Aufenthalten in der französischen Metropole von der Freundin und Malerin Clara Westhoff, der Ehefrau Rainer Maria Rilkes. Die Stadt an der Seine ist ein Abenteuer, eine Flucht aus der Enge der deutschen Provinz in eine Welt, in der die Sprache der Kunst neu erfunden wurde, und die Modersohn-Becker schließlich in Worpswede auf die ihr eigene Weise weiterentwickeln wird. Paris ist aber auch der Ort, an dem Paula Modersohn-Becker ganz zu sich findet und ihr Leben endgültig selbst in die Hand nimmt. So steht sie auch am Anfang einer sehr aktuellen, unaufgeregten und zugleich entschiedenen Selbstbefreiung der moderner Frauen.

FBN HENRI MATISSE: A BIO-BIBLIOGRAPHY is the first comprehensive scholarly annotated bibliography on Matisse. It includes a chronology, biographical sketch, bibliographic overview, primary bibliography, and extensive secondary bibliography as well as exhibitions and oeuvre details.

John Jacob Astor Just as the clothes we wear can communicate our personality and how we want to be perceived, so fashion can reflect the politics and preoccupations of the society that produced it. A Cultural History of Western Fashion guides you through the relationships between haute couture and ready-to-wear designer fashions, popular culture, big business, high-tech production, as well as traditional and social media. Exploring fashion's interdisciplinary nature, English and Munroe also highlight the parallel evolution of clothing design and the other visual arts over the last 150 years. This new edition includes expanded coverage of the build up to the First World War and brings this classic text up to date. There is also a new chapter on smart textiles and technology, exploring the work of Hussein Chalayan and Iris Van Herpen among others, and expanded coverage of the role of sustainability in the contemporary fashion industry, including biosynthetic textile production and Stella McCartney's use of vegan leather.

Contemporary Women Artists

A Cultural History of Western Fashion This is the first comprehensive, multidisciplinary, and multilingual bibliography on "Women and Gender in East Central Europe and the Balkans (Vol. 1)" and "The Lands of the Former Soviet Union (Vol. 2)" over the past millennium. The coverage encompasses the relevant territories of the Russian, Hapsburg, and Ottoman empires, Germany and Greece, and the Jewish and Roma diasporas. Topics range from legal status and marital customs to economic participation and gender roles, plus unparalleled documentation of women writers and artists, and autobiographical works of all kinds. The volumes include approximately 30,000 bibliographic entries on works published through the end of 2000, as well as web sites and unpublished dissertations. Many of the individual entries are annotated with brief descriptions of major works and the tables of contents for collections and anthologies. The entries are cross-referenced and each volume includes indexes.

Women Artists Profiles women who have made contributions to the arts in the areas of painting, sculpting, and graphic arts

Women and Gender in Central and Eastern Europe, Russia, and Eurasia In 1978, while collecting documentary photographs of the artists' community in Montparnasse from the first decades of the century, Billy Klüver discovered that some previously unassociated photographs fell into significant groupings. One group in particular, showing Picasso, Max Jacob, Moïse Kislting, Modigliani, and others at the Café de la Rotonde and on Boulevard du Montparnasse, all seemed to have been taken on the same day. The people were wearing the same clothes in each shot and had the same accessories. Their ties were knotted the same way and their collars had the same wrinkles. A total of twenty-four photographs—four rolls of film with six photographs each—were eventually found. With the challenge of identifying the date, photographer, and circumstances, Klüver embarked on an inquiry that would illuminate the minute texture of that time and place. Biographical research into the subjects' lives led Klüver to focus on the summer of 1916 as the likely time the photos were taken. He then measured buildings and plotted angles and lengths of shadows in the photographs to narrow the time frame to a spread of three weeks. Further investigation eventually allowed Klüver to identify the photographer as Jean Cocteau and to determine the day that Cocteau had taken the photographs: August 12, 1916. A computer printout of the sun's positions on that date, obtained from the Bureau des Longitudes, together with the length of the shadows, enabled Klüver to calculate the time of day of each photograph, and thus to put them in proper sequence. In a tour de force of art historical research, Klüver then reconstructed a scenario of the events of the four hours depicted in the photographs. With evocative attention to detail—noting when Picasso is no longer carrying an envelope or Max Jacob has acquired a decoration in his lapel—Klüver recreates a single afternoon in the lives of Picasso and friends, a group of remarkable people in early twentieth-century Paris. Besides the central "portfolio" of photographs by Cocteau, the book contains additional photographs and drawings, short biographies of all the subjects, and a historical section on the events and activities in the Paris art world at the time.

Special Visions Lists biographies and sources of information about women who have helped shape world history

Agútese Bien "Locating information on women is difficult and the editors have done a fine job assembling and publishing information extant on individual women from many nations both living and dead. Because in some cases only birth, marriage, children, and death dates are known, the 10,000 articles vary in length according to the subject. If you haven't been able to answer reference questions on women, you need this set."--"Outstanding Reference Sources," American Libraries, May 2001.

Der Aufbruch in die Moderne This book includes some 200 complete entries from the award-winning Dictionary of Women Artists, as well as a selection of introductory essays from the main volume.

Jim Kobak's Kirkus Reviews Discusses the history, politics, art, architecture, dance, music, cinema, literature, theater, newspapers, places, philosophy, and popular culture of France from 1900 to 1975.

Kirkus Reviews Abstracts of journal articles, books, essays, exhibition catalogs, dissertations, and exhibition reviews. The scope of ARTbibliographies Modern extends from artists and movements beginning with Impressionism in the late 19th century, up to the most recent works and trends in the late 20th century. Photography is covered from its invention in 1839 to the present. A particular emphasis is placed upon adding new and lesser-known artists and on the coverage of foreign-language literature. Approximately 13,000 new entries are added each year. Published with title LOMA from 1969-1971.

Henri Matisse The third volume of Richardson's magisterial Life of Picasso, a groundbreaking contribution to our understanding of one of the greatest artists of the twentieth century. Here is Picasso at the height of his powers in Rome and Naples, producing the sets and costumes with Cocteau for Diaghilev's Ballets Russes, and visiting Pompei where the antique statuary fuel his obsession with classicism; in Paris, creating some of his most important sculpture and painting as part of a group that included Braque, Apollinaire, Miró, and Breton; spending summers in the South of France in the company of Gerald and Sara Murphy, Hemingway, and Fitzgerald. These are the years of his marriage to the Russian ballerina Olga Khokhlova—the mother of his only legitimate child, Paulo—and of his passionate affair with Marie-Thérèse Walter, who was, as well, his model and muse.

A Life of Picasso III: The Triumphant Years Expanded to include an additional 29 artists, the second edition of Women Artists is evidence of the growing interest in the lives and careers of women artists. Additional annotated entries are included for the painters, printmakers, photographers, sculptors, and craftswomen represented in the earlier volume. With 43 black-and-white reproductions. This work continues to be an extremely valuable reference source, especially for women artists prior to the 20th century.--CHOICE a most useful reference tool for anyone researching in this field.--REFERENCE REVIEWS

?????????? ???? ???? ? ???? ???? ???? ???? ???? ???? 8 Jody Blake demonstrates in this book that although the impact of African-American music and dance in France was constant from 1900 to 1930, it was not unchanging. This was due in part to the stylistic development and diversity of African-American music and dance, from the prewar cakewalk and ragtime to the postwar Charleston and jazz. Successive groups of modernists, beginning with the Matisse and Picasso circle in the 1900s and concluding with the Surrealists and Purists in the 1920s, constructed different versions of la musique and la danse negre. Manifested in creative and critical works, these responses to African-American music and dance reflected the modernists' varying artistic agendas and historical climates.

Sonia Delaunay The first comprehensive research guide and bibliography to the literature of Braque, this volume includes more than 1,100 entries and much more.

Notable Women in World History This new edition of a bestselling textbook is designed for students, scholars, and anyone interested in 20th century fashion history. Accessibly written and well illustrated, the book outlines the social and cultural history of fashion thematically, and contains a wide range of global case studies on key designers, styles, movements and events. The new edition has been revised and expanded: there are new sections on eco-fashion, fashion and the museum, major changes in the fashion market in the 21st century (including the impact of new media and retailing networks), new technologies, fashion weeks, the rise of asian fashion centers and more. There are twice as many illustrations. In its second edition, A Cultural History of Fashion in the 20th and 21st Centuries is the ideal introductory text for all students of fashion.
